

January Issue Of Successful Farming Featuring Guest Editor U.S. Secretary Of Agriculture Sonny Perdue Released

Theme of issue is "Do Right and Feed Everyone."

DES MOINES, Iowa, Jan. 11, 2019 /PRNewswire/ -- The January issue of Successful Farming that was guest-edited by U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Sonny Perdue was released today. The secretary is the first ever Guest Editor of a single issue of Successful Farming, the nation's premier farm magazine.

Secretary Perdue was nominated by President Trump and confirmed by the Senate to his position at the Department of Agriculture in April 2017, and previously served as the Governor of Georgia from 2003 to 2011. As Guest Editor of Successful Farming, the Secretary curated several major feature stories in the magazine highlighting issues affecting agriculture across the country. The issue also includes a profile about a day in the life of Secretary Perdue.

Meredith Agrimedia Editorial Director Dave Kurns reached out to the office of the Secretary about having him serve as Guest Editor. "They were very responsive to the idea," said Kurns. "Successful Farming has been serving farmers for more than 116 years, and we're very excited to have Secretary Perdue as our first ever Guest Editor. Farmers rely more than ever on the USDA's programs and services. We provide trusted, credible coverage of the entire scope of USDA's efforts."

The issue theme is "Do Right and Feed Everyone," and the stories have also been published on Successful Farming at Agriculture.com/Perdue.
