DES MOINES, Iowa, May 10, 2017 /PRNewswire/ -- Meredith Corporation (NYSE: MDP; www.meredith.com), the leading media and marketing company serving 110 million unduplicated American women and 70 percent of U.S. Millennial women, announced today that it has entered a licensing agreement with FGX International, the owner and designer of Foster Grant® eyewear, to produce a line of sunglasses for the SHAPE brand. The two industry leaders partnered to create a co-branded product: Foster Grant® for SHAPE®.

The athleisure line of eyewear will combine product performance features that active women need with the fashion styling that women want. Product benefits that maximize comfort include:

- Lightweight, Soft-Flex Frames
- Scratch- and Impact-Resistant Polycarbonate Lenses
- Anti-Slip Nose Pads on Select Styles

"Today's announcement builds on the momentum of the SHAPE media brand and the successful launch of SHAPE's first licensing program for women's athleisure apparel," says Elise Contarsy, Vice President of Meredith's Brand Licensing division. "Sunglasses and their accessories are a natural adjacency to our clothing program, and we look to add more adjacent product categories to extend the SHAPE brand reach."

Retail distribution is expected across mass and drug stores, as well as online including www.fostergrant.com, with the first retail exposure in select locations by summer 2017. The full collection of product will be available by summer 2018.

SHAPE is the nation's #1 healthy lifestyle magazine and its websites and social platforms attract millions more every month for inspiring stories, exercise how-to's and personal health and beauty tips.
